How to pay for public transport

The OV-chipcard is the means of payment for the public transport system in Rotterdam. The OV-chipcard is the size of a bank card and contains an invisible chip. The OV-chipcard can be loaded with credit in Euros (€) with which you can travel anywhere within Rotterdam.

There is also the possibility to buy a disposable card. This card allows the holder to travel immediately, but it can not be re-charged or loaded.

The OV-chipcards can be bought at RET-ticket offices and vending machines at any metro station. You check in at the gate by holding your OV-chipcard up to the screen. At the end of your journey, you check out by holding your card up to the gate screen. Don't forget to check out because otherwise the balance on your chipcard will be gone. For more information please visit: OV-chipcard.
